

Signature Sheet for College of Architecture New Course Requests

As a courtesy to your departmental representative on the Academic Affairs Committee, we ask that you submit this form as a cover sheet to all new course requests within the College of Architecture. This use includes all 489, 689 and permanent course requests effective November 1, 2004.

1. Department submitting the request: _____

2. Prefix and number of new course: _____

3. Complete course title: _____

4. Justification for offering this course:

5. Has this course been reviewed by your departmental Academic Affairs Committee?

Yes, Date _____

No

Please attach the appropriate new course request form and a course syllabus complete with the following items required by the Dean of Faculties:

- Course Title and Number
- Course Description (see reverse for examples from the catalog)
- Instructor information
- Prerequisite(s)
- Course topics/calendar
- Grading
- List of assignments, tests, etc.
- No statements contrary to University rules re. attendance, approved absences, etc.
- Textbook and/or resource materials listing
- Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Policy Statement
- Academic Integrity Statement

(For copies of the appropriate ADA and Academic Integrity statements, please see <http://www.tamu.edu/dof/faculty/syllabus.php>).

Signature of faculty member proposing course

Signature of departmental AAC representative
(see department for current membership)

Catalog Examples of Course Descriptions:

605. Architectural Design I. (2-12). Credit 6.

Application of verbal, graphic, research, critical thinking and fundamental design skills to architectural projects that emphasize design theory, systems of ordering in architecture and urban design, use of precedents, site and contextual issues; includes program development and concerns for public health, safety and welfare. Core design studio for professional degree candidates. Prerequisite: Graduate classification.

641. Construction Management Communications. (3-0). Credit 3.

Current theory and practice of voice and data communications technology applicable to the construction industry; digital communications tools used by construction managers to facilitate the understanding of roles, relationships and processes of construction project constituents. Prerequisite: Graduate classification.

620. Dispute Resolution and Participation in Planning. (3-0). Credit 3.

Theory and practice of public policy-oriented alternative dispute resolution (ADR) especially in environmental and land planning and regulation; practical skills of facilitation/mediation as aids to conventional public participation; voluntary negotiation as a supplement to regulation; relevant theoretical perspectives from decision and game theory and compensation literatures. Prerequisite: Graduate classification.